State and local coalitions on mental health and aging are invited to join the National Coalition on Mental Health and Aging (NCMHA).

Joining NCMHA affords a number of benefits including:

- A forum for information exchange across states and between NCMHA and state and local coalitions related to best practices, resources, grant opportunities, and national initiatives in which they might become involved.
- An opportunity to bring to the attention of NCMCHA issues and resources from states and communities concerning the needs of older adults who experience mental health and substance abuse disorders.
- A mechanism for older adult consumers to make their voice heard on mental health and substance abuse issues at the national level.
- Regular updates of NCMHA activities through provision of its meeting agendas and minutes, and inclusion on its electronic distribution list.
- Representation at NCMHA meetings in Washington DC, if possible

Entities interested in joining NCMHA should send a letter expressing such interest to:
